The Quest For Self Expression

Being a student involves much more than just attending class. If we really want to enjoy the full scope of going to high school, we must seek our many new and different experiences, meet additional friends, and grow intellectually. To achieve this, we express ourselves by getting involved in extracurricular activities. From playing in the band to holding down a part time job.

Only by searching for the talents hidden within us can we begin to understand how we fit into the complex pattern of life. What better way to find out someone's acting aptitude than by joining Drama Club, or to discover a person's athletic ability than on the football field?

Wisdom is the product of intelligence plus experience. The classroom supplies the fundamentals necessary to know the right decision, but outside groups and interests give us the experience; a chance to prove ourselves.

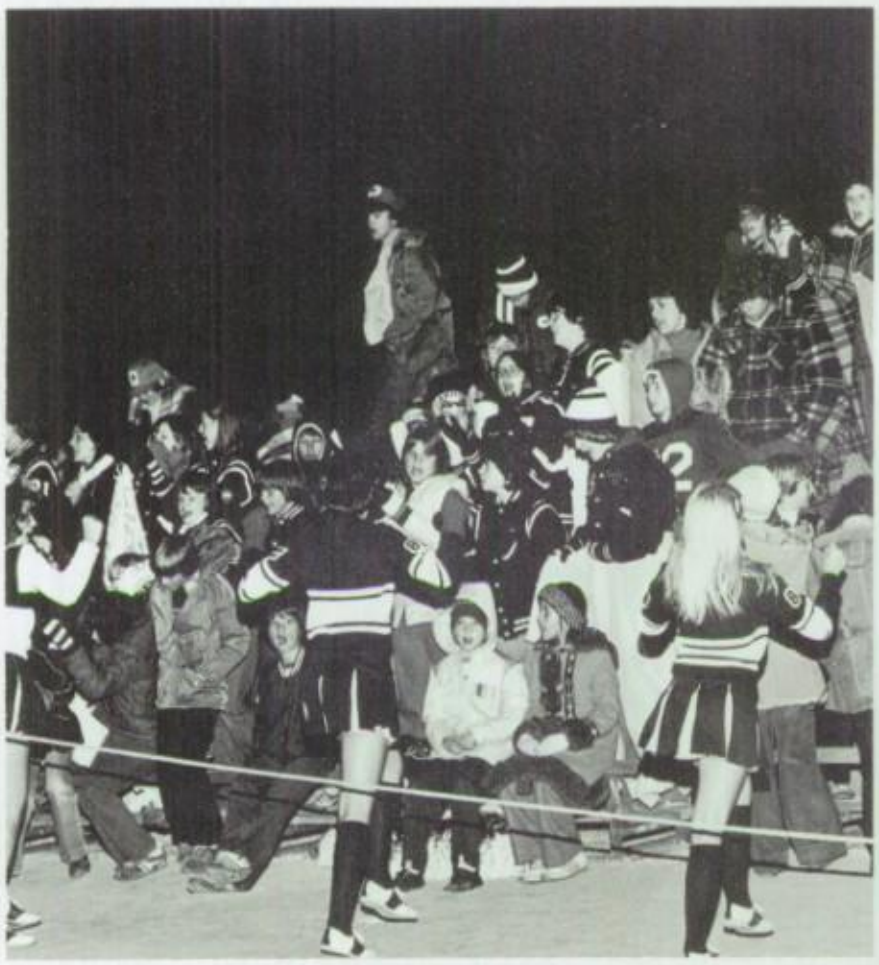
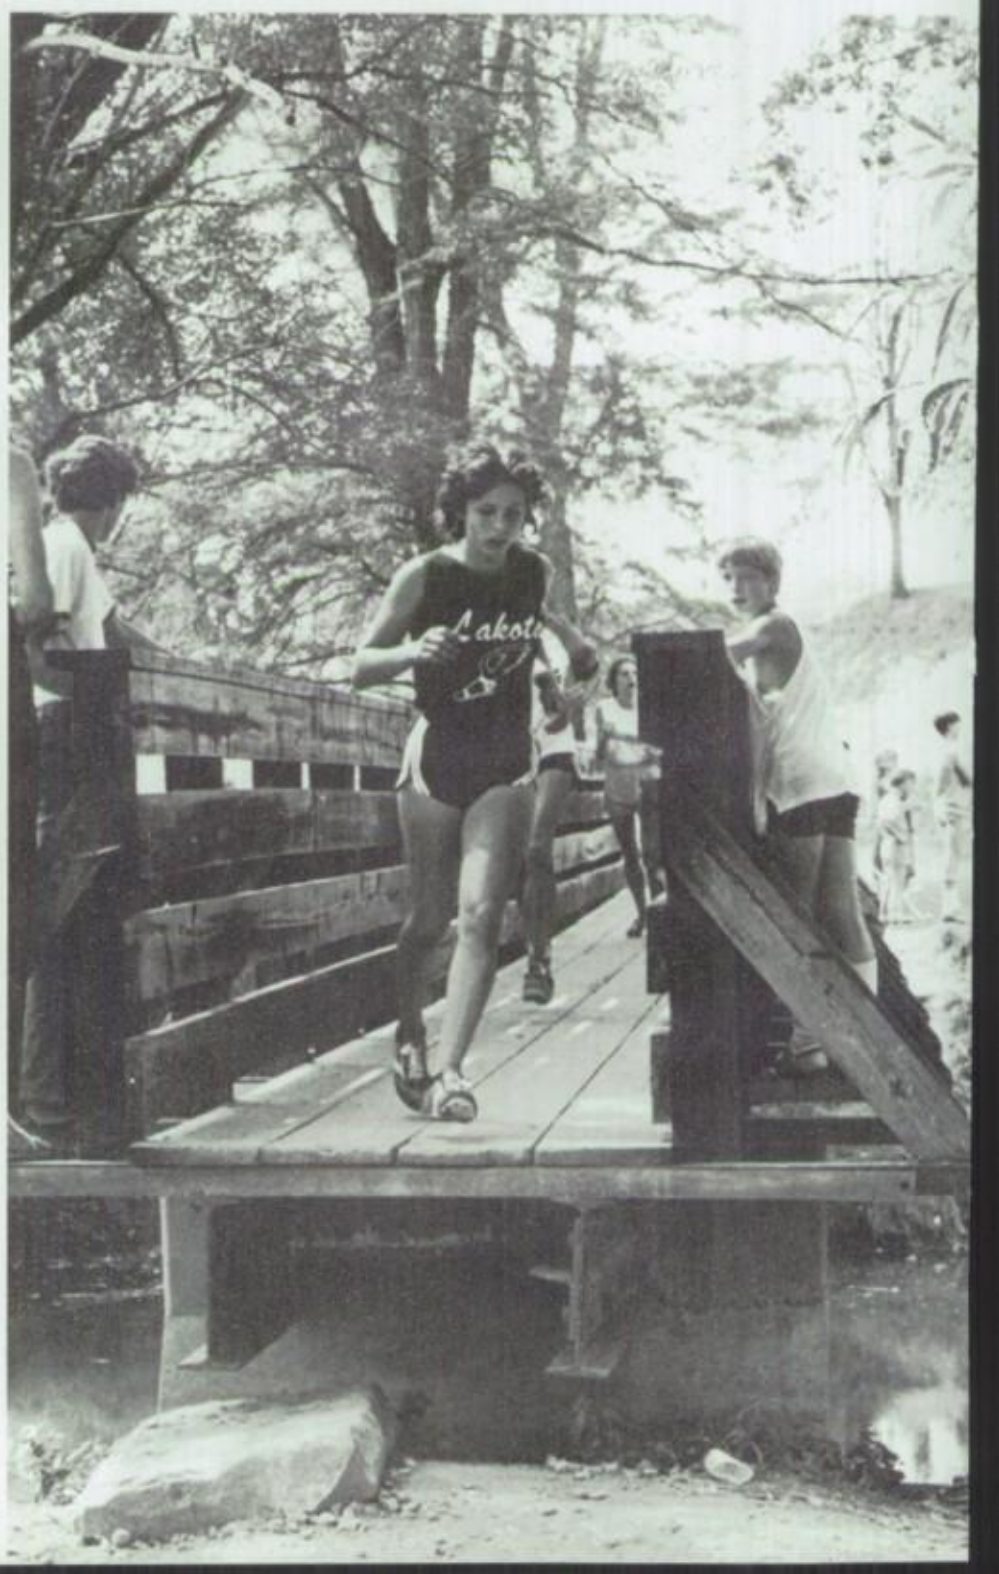
The Initial Win

Student spirit revolves around our awareness of what is happening in the sports world. The Homecoming, for example, centers around the football game on Friday night, but also includes a week-long spree of student participation activities. The attitude of our student body reflects that of any team; the students are elated when the team triumphs, and dispondent when they fail.

To be a part of a team means working together well with others toward a common goal. Striving to better themselves, each team member contributes his or her own special talents for a team victory!

Accomplishment is a sense of satisfaction from a job well done. An athlete needs only the personal reward of this satisfied feeling to make all the pain and anxiety worthwhile.





Above: V-I-C-T-O-R-Y is the right chant as the first touchdown is being scored. Right: The last stretch of the race is coming and Barb Wildman is ready to try for a victory.

Greater Knowledge

Man's history has been a constant quest to find out more about his surroundings and himself. To discover and to conquer are still our main goals, whether it be exploring space or our own minds.

A school system has to form the base for a strong society. Education is one of the first signs of a civilized culture. Without a written language, there is no sure way to transmit information from one generation to the next.

Learning is not a function to be turned on and off again at will, but rather a continuing assimilation of everything our senses percieve. Not satisfied with imperfection or content with an unanswered question, a true scholar never relinquishes his unending search.

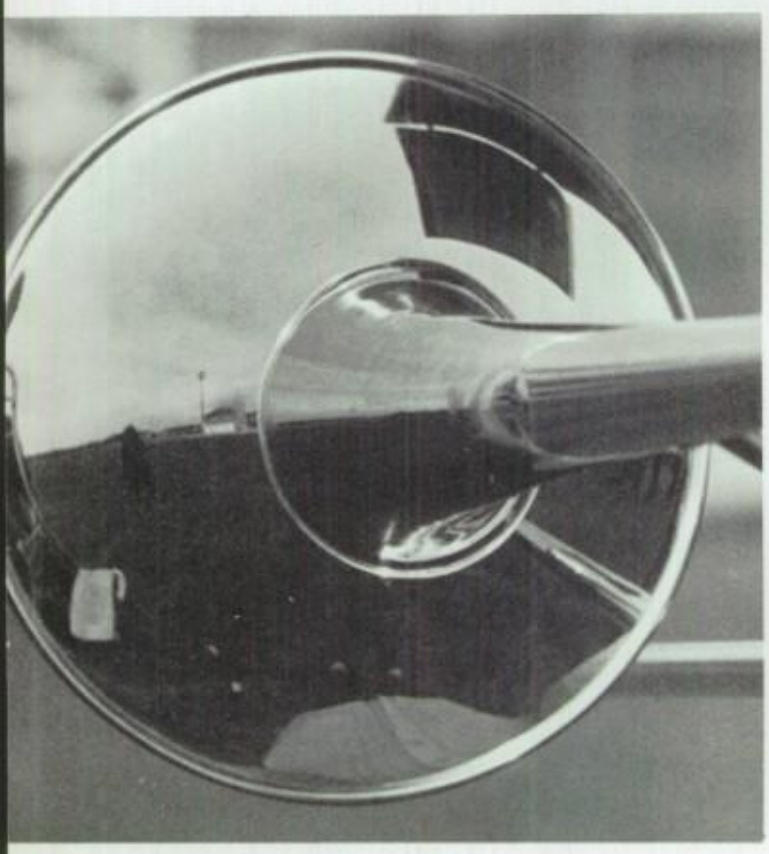
Answers To Our Many Questions

Below: Reflecting on the past and looking towards the future, we try to better ourselves.



Learning to live, and living to learn. These words sum up the outlook Lakota High students have of life. Only by pursuing challenging goals can we grow and begin the long process of maturity. If we are able to reach out and communicate with people who share the same problems and know the same disappointments that we do, the load is somehow lightened!

Questions seem to arise from all sides, forcing hasty decisions about the future, or changing the conditions of the present. We will never be completely satisfied with who we are, what we're doing, or where we're going. The more we search, and open new channels for growth, the better equipped we are to handle it.

Who's The Best?

WHO'S THE BEST?

Competition acts as a catalyst to develop student involvement and school spirit. Each individual feels it his duty to contribute time and energy for the betterment of the entire class. Whether it be by participating or by watching and cheering, every student provides a part of the energy needed to create spirit.

All four classes strived to win each contest, with the sophomores leading in decorating, and the junior class winning the marshmallow eating contest. The Seniors won overall, with victories in the bubblegum contest, the Gong Show, and the skits.

Homecoming week was a learning experience for everyone. It brought the classes together and they worked like teams. Even though everyone didn't win, everyone worked like a winner because they gave their best.

Below: With the crowd yelling encouragement, Mike Hoffman's third and final try proves crucial.

We Won

This year's homecoming was one that certainly no Raider will ever forget. The week was filled with strong class competitions and spirit. The week was capped by the game against Oak Harbor Friday night.

Kim Keller and Tim Ray were crowned Queen and King by last year's Queen and King.

The football team was psyched up and ready to win. And for the first time since 1972, the Raiders won their Homecoming game soundly defeating the opposition 19 - 0 and the cry was heard, "We Won!"

Band Ends Season On A Key Note

Camie McGough seems to be lost in her music during the Homecoming halftime activities.

Being a member of the marching band was much more than the Friday night halftime shows. There was a lot of hard work and dedication not only on the part of the directors but with the students as well.

Throughout the season they are one big family and must be able to get along as one. Though tempers did explode and things got hectic it came out good.

The hard work started on Monday August 14, and didn't end until November 3. During this time, the band made ready the twenty-six freshmen for the upcoming year. With over half of the band freshmen it seemed as if they wouldn't get it together but the freshmen rallied and really worked hard to bring the band a successful marching season.

Various activities of the band included marching in the local Halloween parades and competeing in a contest at Bluffton College at which they had a good showing.

Right: A successful show is reflected by the hardwork put in by Barry Hull.

Left: Anticipating a touchdown the band shows excitement as we go on to win our first Homecoming game since 1972.

Below: By the expression on Mr. Lehman's face you can tell he has no worries as to whether the band will do a good job.

Help! We're Being Invaded

"Help! we are being invaded," is the call as Star Raider, the evil villian from Inferna, attempts to take over the earth. The defenders of the earth, the EIEIO, are currently at there secret hideaway, O Mac Donalds' Health Spa. Star Raider and his gang of evil villians have captrued the EIEIO and has rendered them powerless. The only people who can save the EIEIO and the earth are Superbrain, Wizard Woman, and the dumb maids.

Sound, interesting? This was the plot behind the drama clubs' first production, "May the Farce/Be With You." They started work on the play during the first part of November and December 3 was the date of production. Even though the drama club was told that they would need a miracle to be ready by that time they overcame their difficulties and put on their best play in 2 years.

The only partner Terry Sabo can find to play ping-pong is his twin brother Jerry. That doesn't bother him though, it's the fact that they win.

What's It Like Being A Twin

What is it really like being a twin? That's a question that twelve students of Lakota High School are commonly asked. Some of them don't get along too well, while others do. Although none of them are identical, they do have some qualities which are alike. The teachers don't have too much of a mix up with the names since none of them are alike. Also, most of the teachers seemed to agree that they are all super kids, and they are a joy to have around.

Being a twin is not what its cracked up to be as Daneen and Dwight Waltermier have their ups and downs.

Dave and Liz Gbison don't mind in a little togetherness as they sit together in the library. BELOW: Having a class together as twin sisters can be a problem, but Pam and Tam Eversole really don't mind it

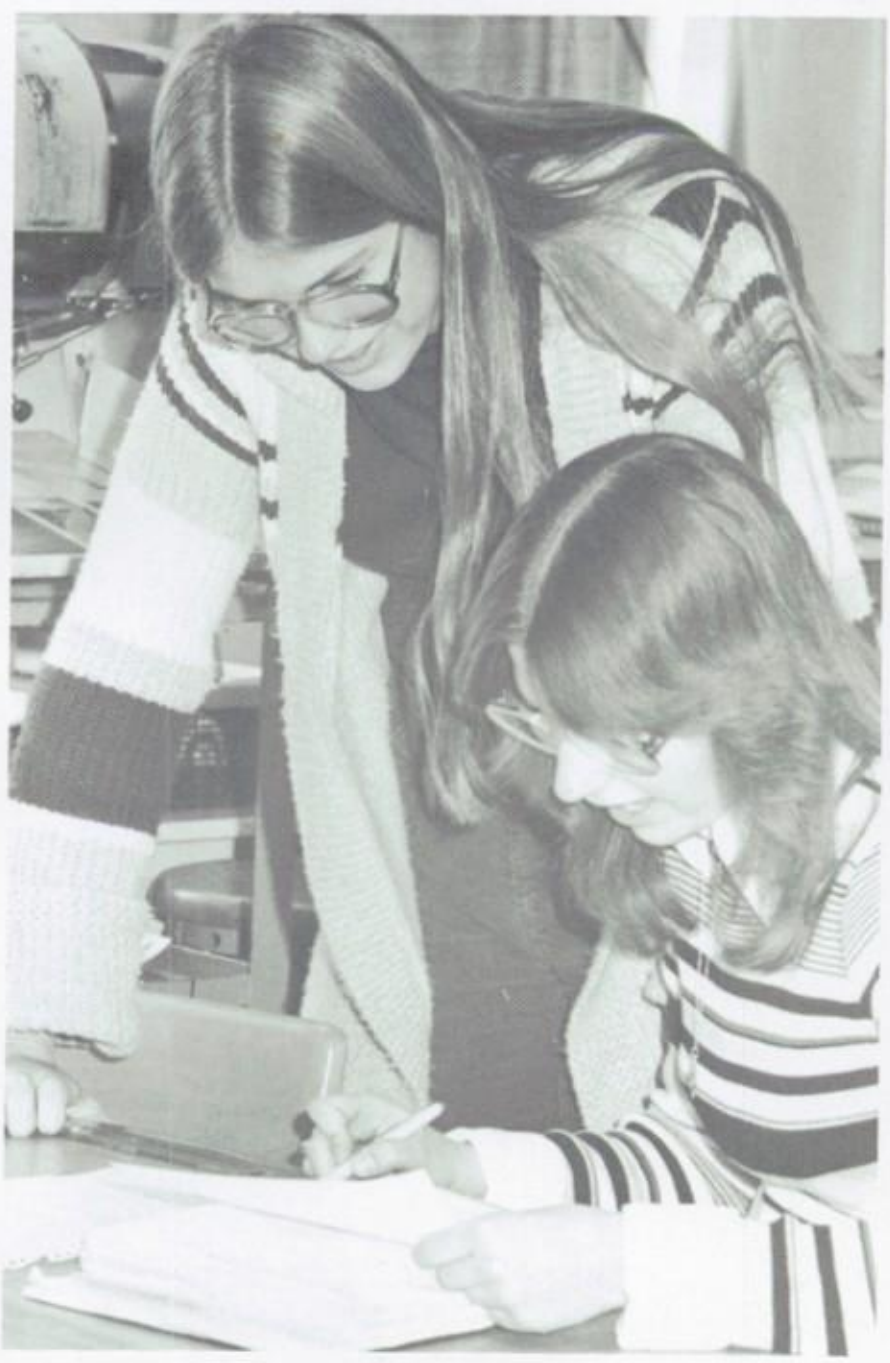
Staff Works Hard On Yearbook

The annual staff works hard each year to produce a new and successful yearbook. Members of the staff are volunteer and devote one period each day to this job.

Sales of the book start early in the year with the staff going out to get various businesses to sponsor our yearbook. More annuals were sold this year than before, due to the fact of advertisements over the P.A.

Although the work may be hard at times, there is some fun. The staff hopes that this yearbook brings back many memories in the years to come.



Doing ads is the most difficult part of any annual. Leann Hunt and Shellie Swain both work dilligently to get their job done.

Activities Have Been Good For Student Council

This year more than ever Student Council has been involved very much with the student body. Starting off with a grewt Homecoming and Spirit Year, the Council really deserves thanks. They bought a ping-pong ball dispenser, a large hall size rug with the Raider on it, had a Staff Appreciation breakfast and plan to paint some class rooms over. They have donated money to the Speech class, the Varsity L, and many other organizations. With President Nat Hill, Vice-President Dave Braun, Advisor Jeff Capell and the rest of the organization they have done a lot for the student body this year!!

Ohio Right To Read Week Observed

During the week of February 11, the right to read was observed by all in the building. Each day during the daily announcements a continued story was read over the PA. Periodical book reviews were also given on recent books to increase the interest in reading which was accompanied by sustained silent reading between 9:30 and 9:45 each morning. During this time all students, staff, administration, and visitors brought or were given books so everyone would exercise their right to read.

For extra frills bullentin boards were decorated by English classes. They included such slogans as "Do a good deed, get a book and read", and "Willy the worm says, Get off the hook, and read a book." For an added attraction, a poll was taken to find the top one hundred books read and then the student body was asked to guess which one was the most popular. The winners of the contest were named at the special assembly held the Friday of that week where guest speaker Professor Howard McCord of B.G.S.U. spoke and read some of his works.

The week was enjoyed since there was always something to do and the Ohio Right to Read Week will again be observed next year.

Ron Fairbanks was in charge of the periodical book reports given each day. "Ice Castles" is the title of the book report that was given by Terry Meyer.

Everyday between 9:30 and 9:45 silent reading was observed such as Jenny Boucher does during study hall.

During silent reading Dave Baldwin catches up in "The Outsiders" for his class assignment.

The FFA Basketball team had a 4-0 record this year as Tod Weaver, Art Meyer, and Randy Feick help the team on to another victory.

FFA Excels In Many Activities

The FFA is an organization composed of students who plan to have a career related with agriculture. The FFA participates in activities throughout the year, such as FFA Camp, State and National Conventions, judging teams and many more. The fruit sale this year was a big success with a profit of $3,000.00

The biggest event of the year is the parent member banquet with approximately 200 people in attendance. At the banquet Greg Lehmann was named the Star Greenhand, Jenny Boucher Star Chapter Farmer, and Leon Purkey the Outstanding Senior. Honorary Chapter Farmer and Distinguished Service Awards were presented to people who helped the FFA this past year. Todd Stoller, State FFA Treasurer was the guest speaker. Another highlight of the banquet was the crowning of the queen. Louise Purkey was crowned queen, with Becky Haubert, Nancy Wonderly, and Diane Foster being the attendants. The banquet ended with the installation of new officers.

Variety Show '79

The show consisted of several famous commercial spots, comedy routines like "Who's on first," and musical numbers. The finale included a number of patriotic songs.

Although the show did not enjoy the immense success of last year's musical, it brought out more new members who will next year benefit the Drama Club.

Vocal Groups Entertain

Aspiring young singers walking the halls of L.H.S. look to the music department for help in pursuing their musical interest. The interested student could start in the Freshman Choir and work their way up to the Senior Chorus and possibly the Mixed Ensemble. The selected students in the Mixed Ensemble were given the opportunity to perform for the Bradner Senior Citizens and the Kiwanis Annual Pancake Dinner. The choral groups performed in giving: Christmas, Pre-Contest, and Spring Concerts. This year the choirs were aquainted with various types of music, both modern and religious. This years Senior Chorus participated in district contest in Class B and received a II for their performance.

What's Happening?

Achieving an educaiton involves more than just the basic classroom learning. School provides students with a period of adjustment, learning to get along with other people and to mature. Traveling, playing, and even eating together are ways that students and faculty can interact with each other. Maturity means meeting and ahndling responsibility, by looking out for yourself. A feeling of trust evolves from being able to sign yourself in, or out, and being responsible for your actions. To become a full person, by having experiences in driving, artistic creativity, or any competition is what high school is all about. It's more than just pencils and books, it's an experience.

Seniors Tour Washington

This year for the second time a select group of seniors went and viewed the nation's capital. Accompanied by Mr. Yount and Mr. Capell, the two government teachers and Mrs. Deb Capell and seven seniors, boarded a fifteen passenger van and went.

Upon arriving they saw the Jefferson Memorial, the Lincoln Memorial and they even went up into the Washington Monument. On the next day they toured the Treasury and the Capital Building. The highlight of the trip for everyone was the meeting of Senator John Glenn. The group met, talked, and even had their picture taken with him. On Saturday they went to Mount Vernon, George Washington's home, Arlington Cemetery, Iwo Jima and they walked around the White House. As a kind of nice ending they dined at the Hagship, a Washington restaurant on the waterfront. Although they returned exhausted it was a trip that would always be remembered and was well worth it.

Practice Makes Perfect

After marching season most people feel that the band retires into hibernation until the next marching season. Actually the band is just beginning a long and hard struggle for perfection. They strive from the beginning of the concert season until the end for a good rating, perferably a I, at contest.

During the year the band also performs three different concerts. Two of the concerts are combined with the choirs, the Christmas concert and the Ice Cream Social, the other one is by themselves, the contest concert. Inside of the band are also two other very important organizations, the jazz band and the pep band. The pep band performs at the home basketball games to help promote spirit and the jazz band performs at area gatherings.

NHS Inducts Twenty

Twenty new members were added to National Honor Society as a result of their service, leadership, character, and service. Fourteen juniors and six seniors were tapped in late February and later inducted at the May 17, Honors Banquet.

The induction consisted of a candle ceremony and the explanation of each of the four qualities by which a member is chosen. At the banquet the Vice-President of B.G.S.U. was the guest speaker. A surprise for everyone but especially Mr. Geary was the presentation of a gift from N.H.S. for his service as an advisor and his departure.

We've Got Spirit, How 'bout You?

For too many years LHS students and fans alike haven't had the spirit, but this years basketball tournaments turned all that around.

The first big spirit boost came at the last home game when we won the SLL. At sectionals our fans were all psyched up and ready to cheer our team on. With rival Fostoria there all the Raider fans united and cheered louder and our team won their sectional game.

Since this meant a trip to the District action we held a pep rally and the student enthusiasm was overwhelming. Our win over Lake provided all the Raiders with the vision of a dream. That dream of going to the State tournaments.

The enthusiasm at the Cardinal Stritch game was even higher. Every fan was their feet yelling their support. Never once did the fans let down the team. By beating Cardinal Stritch our Raiders acheived their first District Championship and earned a unprecedented trip to Regionals at B.G.S.U..

That whole week before Regionals was designated as "Spirit Week". Signs covered every wall, room, hallway and even houses and roadsigns in the area. Newspapers carried many articles about the upcomming game. Even other area schools sent us their best wishes and one school even sent us a Good Luck sign! The spirit fever mounted and mounted and you were no longer a freshman, sophmore, parent or a teacher, but you were a Lakota Raider!

The trip to B.G. was an exciting one but the team advanced no further after losing to a brilliant Willard.

Even though we didn't make it to state the spirit lives on. We are proud of our team and school and if anyone ever asks us if we have spirit we can proudly say, "WE SURE DO!"

Nights Are Forever

Preparation for the prom took many long hours of planning and hard work, but was well worthwhile. Nights are Forever being the theme song, the juniors decorated the gym with stars and dark colored streamers to provide a romantic night setting.

The band, Shades of Blue, provided many different moods of music. It included rock, easy listening and square dancing. As the guests listened and danced to the music, their moods changed as the music did.

At the prom Donnie Saalman and Andrea Thaxton were crowned king and queen. They were overcome with joy as they danced to the music Nights are Forever, which was dedicated to them.

Sports

S.L.L. Champions

Cross Country is a very demanding sport. It takes a very dedicated person. One who enjoys running and doesn't mind taking out a few personal hours each day to run. It demands not only a strong body but a strong mind as well.

Running an average of two to five miles everyday, the team worked during the long summer days. In addition to personal running the team practices on the backroads near the high school. Moving to Nature Trails for the individual meets, the harriers took the Suburban Lakes League title with ease. The teams hopes were riding high when they started the season with seven straight wins. They then dropped a tough dual meet with triple A Clyde, but regrouped to blow out= Otsego in the final meet of the year 15-50.

The climax of the season was the participation of Mike Braun in the State competition. Mike finished fifth in an outstanding field of runners.

Golfers Find Consistency

Its hard to vision that golf is a very difficult game to play. Seeing it played at its relaxed and sometimes "easy" pace, you wonder whats so difficult about hitting a little ball in a cup. But it takes accuracy, good judgement and many hours of practice.

Golf, unlike any other varsity sport, depends more on the individuals than a group. But, more important our team pulled together to form a closely knit squad.

Staying in the 160-170 range for most of their matches, the team played strong consistant games throughout the year.

Losing 8 of their 15 losses by 9 strokes or less. While winning 11 matches along the way.

Hard Practices Give Positive Results

This year hard and early practices resulted in a successful season. When playing volleyball the girls don't just hit the ball over the net. They try to avoid illegal hits but in return use consistent serves, spikes, and bumps when playing.

The Varsity team said they counted on the confidence of their new coach, Ginny Beaston, for their rewards and victories. Coach Beaston's concept of the team is that "the girls made mistakes but the mistakes became worthwhile as the team learned from them."

Being a young team the Junior Varsity ended their season with 2 wins and 8 losses. The Varsity did much better with 9 wins and 5 losses.

Somehow, the importance of merely winning was overshadowed by the importance of participation and enjoyment.

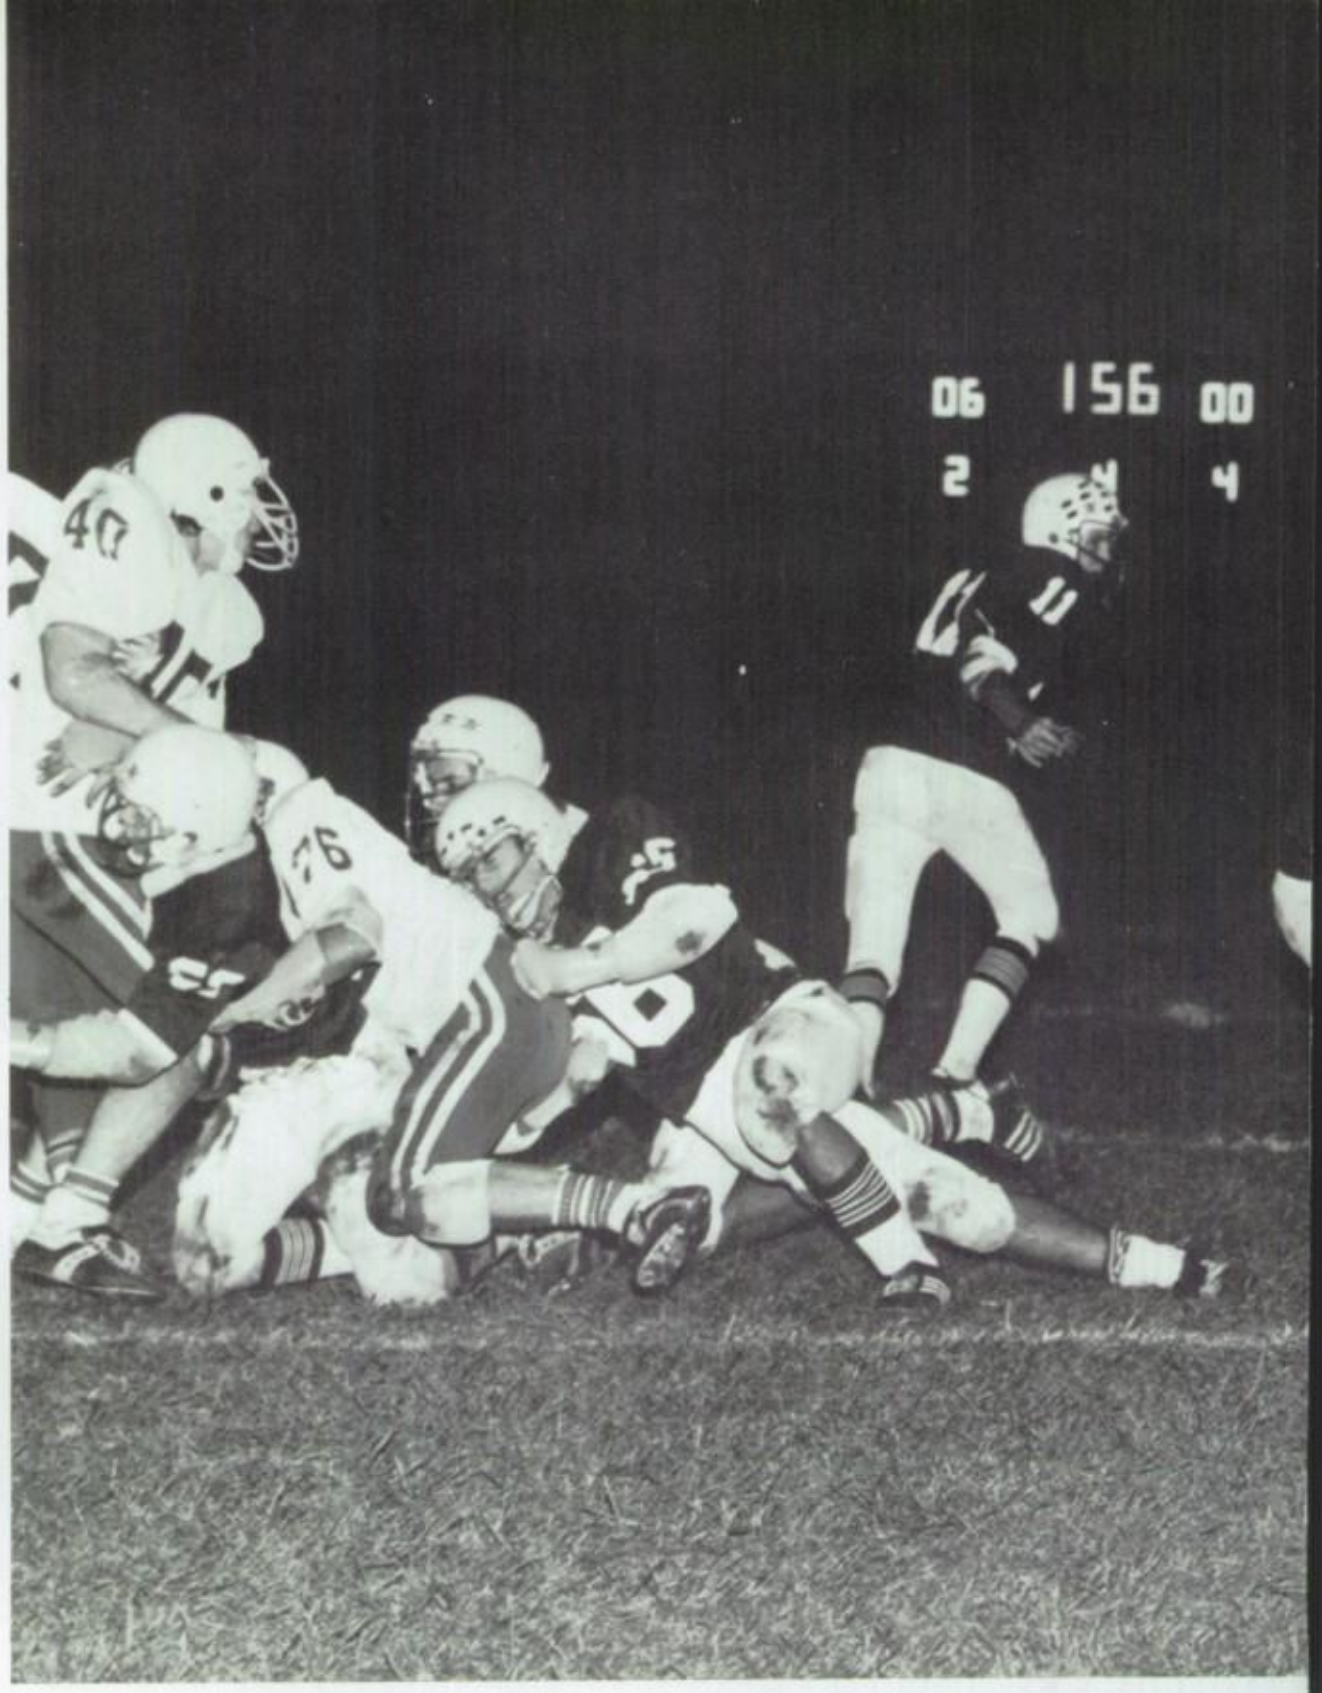
Homecoming 19-0

Even though the season was a losing one, it was a vast outlet of knowledge and experience.

Opening the season with an impressive 27-0 victory over Mohawk, the team showed that their sole determination was to win.

After a scoreless tie with Hopewell-Louden, the Raiders lost three tough leage games straight before beating the Oak Harbor Rockets 19-0 in the first Homecoming victory in six years. Coach Scherger spent the next four weeks losing three of the last four by three points or less.

Two of the Lakhians were named to the 1st team S.L.L. This was proved by the fact that the defense lead the league in over all stats.



The pain doesn't hurt as much when your posting an impressive win on the field.

Being a preseason favorite to win the league can put a lot of pressure on a team. This pressure showed up much too often as the team dropped its first three games. But they gained their confidence with their first win, an 85-50 victory over Gibsonburg, to start an 8 game winning streak, that ended with a close 66-62 loss to Oak Harbor. This game sent the Raiders into a tie for the league lead. Lakota swamped Gibsonburg again in their next meeting, but suffered a 53-51 heartbreaker to Fostoria. The season finished with the Raiders winning each of their last 4 games by at least 15 points and setting a record for the most points scored in one league game.

Lakota clinched the Sectional championship with a win over Fostoria, then swept the Districts by clobbering Lake 72-57 and taking an 84-78 overtime win from Cardinal Stritch.

An important part of this years success was the individual and team play of co-captain Don Saalman.

In addition to the success of the team and the success of Don Saalman, coach Worstein was voted Coach of the Year for his job of putting the Raiders back on the winning track.

J.V.'s Capture 13 Victories

Through valient effort and much hard work the J.V. team received a second place standing in the league. This was due to a sincere coach that made it his business to have a very capable team. He recruited one freshman Larry Ray which did greatly benefit the team.

Although the 13-5 record was good enough to take first in the league two years ago, the competition has gotten tougher, and so will we.

Girls Season Tough

A lot of hard work and determination by the girls and their coach went into making this season successful but unfortunately their opponents were also ready. Led by senior Patti Dennis and Coach Jan Stoudinger the girls finished with a 13-14 season. At Sectional they downed Fostoria 34-29 but then lost to Oak Harbor. Junior Jackie Holman was named to the 1st team all-SLL and senior Patti Dennis was named Most Valuable Player. Next years season hopes to be more promising with most of the Varsity returning.

Young Team Gains Experience

Disappointed and frustration is what Coach Jim Young and the Raider wrestlers endured throughout the 1978-79 season. The matmen fell short of their preseason expectations. Losing tough but decisive matches against experienced teams such as Elmwood (48-18) and Oak Harbor (69-3).

The matmen could'nt put together the confidence for a win. Losing the first six matches before coming out on top of Gibsonburg (37-24). They then lost two crushing defeats before taking their last two matches. Hopewell-Louden (47-12) and Carey (32-28).

The high point in the season was Senior Duane Durst trip to Columbus. Unfortunately he lost a close 3-1 match in the first round.

SLL Champs

Track is a sport of natural talent and mixed with years of practice it becomes a sport of great timing and determination.

The team scoring came from every position this year. Even the weaker points of the team put points toward the final score.

The team placed very high in most of their major meets winning their own invitational. SLL, and San-Ott meets and placing second at Eastwood Relays and fourth at the Lake Invitational.

Outstanding performances were turned in by Arnold Scherger who continuously broke and rebroke his own 330 hurdles and the 110 high hurdles.

The highlight was when Scherger finished 1st in the 330 hurdles and 2nd in the high hurdles at State.

Ist SLL Championship Captured

The 1979 Girls Track season at Lakota turned out to be the best in the history of the school. The team was large in number, deep in talent and high in motivation. This made it possible for the Raiders to complete an undefeated dual meet season, win all 4 of the invitational meets in which they competed and concluded with a first ever SLL Championship. Of the 14 events in the regular program the '79 team set records in 9 events and tied the record in the 10th. With many of the leading scorers on the squad returning next year, hopes run high for an ever better 1980 season.

Banners And Chants Lead Teams

A very important asset to high school sports is its cheerleaders. The girls attended Dennison University in the summer creating new cheers and learning to think positive about our school.

The cheerleaders do more than just cheer. They made signs and banners and had the tee-pee ready for every home game.

Always braving the cold of the football field or obscrurity of a gym, the cheerleaders were there to bring the fans up from the depths of defeat and led them on the path to victory.

Win or lose, rain or shine, the cheerleaders were there to carry the spirit.

Administration

This year more than ever our administration leaders have had the burden of our financial situation on their hands. At the beginning of the year there were many cutbacks on paper, dittos, and other things. The school board and Mr. Keller sat down and formulated a plan that hopefully would keep our school system out of debt.

Their's is a job that no one envies, yet when something goes wrong they are often blamed. We must all give more credit to these men who care enough to get involved in the running of our school.

Arts

Making stained glass windows takes a steady hand as well as talent, as shown by Mr. Henry H. Geary III. Some of the different things he does is repairing stained glass windows in area churches and making some of his own designs. He also gets orders for windows, lamps, and glass jewelry boxes, which he makes at his shop in Fostoria. Besides stained glass, he also enjoys other areas of art, fishing, and gormet cooking. Mr. Geary is a member of the Fostoria Kaubisch Memorial Library Board and the Astronomical Society Board.

English, Spanish, & French

Ms. Mary Inbody, do you really know her? Besides teaching Freshman English she enjoys being the coach for the volleyball team along with being Freshman advisor. Ms. Inbody attended Bluffton College where she aquired her B.A. in English. In her spare time she enjoys intramural volleyball, reading, and sewing.

Science is an interesting subject which covers life and nature, and how it all works together. It is also a sectioned view of everything your senses detect each day of your life.

Who needs mathematics? Anyone from carpenters to chemists. Math is important for it is needed in many occupations as well as everyday life. Our math department is there to teach anyone, anything from basic addition to pre-calculus. Math may not seem important to you now but what about in ten years from now?

Physical Education can be fun, especially if you like basketball, football, foos-ball, running, lifting weights, volleyball, ping-pong, and many other fun and/or exercising activities.

Mr. Rick Brinkman-Freshman Science, Freshman Football, Freshman Adviser, Drivers Education, B.S.

Mrs. Ginny Beaston-Health and Phy. Ed., Volleyball Coach and Asst. Girls Basketball, B.S.

The physical education department has a new instructor this year. Mrs. Ginny Beaston. Mrs. Beaston is coaching the volleyball team to another victory. She also coaches the reserve basketball team. She also enjoys sewing, working outside, playing the piano, and crafts.

Mrs. Pat Stahl has taken on a great responsibility in being our new secretary.

Non-Certified Staff

The members of the non-certified staff, including secretaries, kitchen help, and janitors, are instrumental for the day-to-day operation of the school. Each staff member is responsible for certain duties. Pat Stahl, the latest addition to the staff, handles the typing of letters, balances the school's checkbook, adn does many other things. June Stevens is in charge of recording absences and tardiness among the students. The cooks spend their time planning and preparing nourishing meals for the school body. Far from least important on the staff are the custodians, the Gumps, whose dedication to the school keeps it clean and maintained throughout.

Mrs. Helen Graber and Mrs. Karen Keckler, study hall monitors.

Howard and Mary Gump, custodians, keep everything shining including their faces.

As a secretary, being at school every day is important to June Stevens since she handles the students attendance records.

Mrs. Chlo Shaull, Mrs. Laura Zimmerman, and Mrs. Anna Loomis; cooks.

Vanguard Offers Opportunities

This year more than ever students are taking advantage of the opportunities at Vanguard. With half of the Senior class there and a good percentage of the Junior class also in attendance, there are obviously good things happening there.

For one thing, Vanguard offers an education in specialized areas that can be entered into immediately after graduation. Vanguard also offers in-school training and can arrange jobs. For the student who is looking for skill training, Vanguard could be the answer.

Automechanics is one of the many courses offered at Vanguard and Jeff Babcock seems to be pondering his situation.

Why Not Pick Science?

Exploring new things, and discovering new ways are just some of the things that the science department offers. With Mr. Rick Brinkman as the General Science teacher he introduces freshman to the world of science. For upperclassman who want college prep or just want to know more, Mr. Gary Scherger's classes offer Biology, the study of living organisms. For detailed study of the body there is anatomy and chemistry is dealing with the chemical make-up of our world. All these courses aren't east, but then who knows what great future scientist is maybe in one of your classes?

ABOVE: Having a quiet place to concentrate is sometimes necessary in learning.

Learning Techniques

Learning is a process that never ceases. From the time you are a small baby to your death, you are always learning something. By going to school you acquire knowledge that will help you in your everyday life.

Teachers are an essential part of the learning process. It is through them we grasp the inital concepts. By actually working on projects you gain experience and you learn more.

Sometimes learning is better accomplished by just studying either alone or in a group. It gives you a chance to really concentrate.

All these ways are different, but incorporate the same idea, the reason you go to school, to learn.

News Flash: Verdict Is, Guilty.

Stocks paid off this week at $1.00 per share. The presidential and congressional elections are coming up in the various countries and tight races are predicted. Inflation has hit again as prices for tests have gone up $50.00. The big news for the week was the trial of Ronda Klotz for embezzlement of government funds with Judge Gillespie presiding. The verdict was guilty.

If the information above sounds like a country's national problems, it is. The senior government classes are each their own country with a president and the problems too. It helps to teach them what the "real world" is really like so they are prepared when graduation comes in June. There are many aspects of real life involved as each individual has a chance to own his home, a desk, and also pay taxes and welfare, if needed. By using this system the seniors learn and have fun at the same time.

Graduating Seniors Set Goals

For many, the Senior year at High School is one of endings, a time to fulfill past obligations and to tie up loose ends. But others use the year as a stepping stone towards a successful life, by planning and organizing their future.

Friends play an important part in a senior's life. Not only are friends important during a senior's last year in high school, but friends are also essential for the student's future happiness in life. The friendships made at Lakota High School will remain fond in a senior's heart throughout the year's ahead.

The Class of 1980 is eagerly looking forward to their final year, but many will regret it being their last. Lakota will leave us with both happy and sad memories--both of which helped us grow.

The biggest activity of our junior year was the Junior-Senior Prom. Many hours of hard work and dedication was spent putting it all together, as we decorated to the theme "Nights Are Forever."

One of our many choices we must make about the future is whether or not we go onto college, or just get a job. The future gives us alot to think about.

Sophomores Learn New Academic Skills.

The Sophomore class has had a very successful year. A money making project for the year was a candy sell. The profits were put in the fund for the class of "81".

The highlight for the sophomores was receiving their class rings. Enthusiasm was shared among the classmates. The ring is a symbol of the pride in there school.

Sophomores had more ambition and confidence in the things that they contributed towards their class and the student body. They have learned to work together and to accomplish goals towards next year.

Decisions towards next year has been thought about. The choice of what to be scheduled and whether they will be a benefit towards the future. They are reaching the point where they realize they should start planning a goal.

The year has reached the end and when next year comes they will no longer be a sophomore. They look back towards the year as just one more important step in the task they have set.

Right: To complete her assignment, Cami McGough must first read her assignment, and then follow the instructions.

Time For Work Time For Enjoyment.

With the size of 207 members, the largest class ever to attend our school, the class of '82 has shown many achievements in their first year. On the annual freshman sale of candy bars, they brought in approximately $1800.00 This is the largest amount ever collected in this money making project.

They are full of energy, ready and willing to give full support to all fellow students in sports, clubs, and other activities. With all the required and elective courses to choose from, concentrating mainly on business, mathematics, science, and the arts, they hold a bright future. It is easy to say with their education and spirit they are the leaders of the future.

You're Someone Special

Pride is the catalyst for human achievement...the mover of minds, of muscles and most of all hearts. Your class ring is more than a mere piece of jewelry. A class ring shows Pride.

Your class ring identifies you with your school and your class for all to see. It carries with it much sentimental value and will help you preserve special memories forever.
